

Coronavirus (COVID-19) update
March 16, 2020

We understand that as parents you are dealing with a number of challenges at this time. We just wanted to take a moment to continue our commitment to keep you updated.

As a school division, we are continuing to collaborate with provincial government ministries, neighbouring school divisions, and our school administrative teams. We want you to know that our school leaders and staff are working to provide as much clarity and guidance as possible, as quickly as they can.

We have asked our schools to share with you how and when to pick up your child's belongings. You can expect an email from your child's principal with that information by the end of the week, if you haven't received one already.

It is really important that our parents and our students understand that while classes are cancelled, the learning is not "done". Our schools are actively engaged in planning and preparing for learning to continue. They are creating guidelines and practices so that we can continue engaging our students in their learning. We are hopeful that all of our parents will have received an update from their child's school by early next week.

Thank you for your patience and understanding,

Kurt Sacher
Superintendent of Schools
